Dear Resident,

You're probably aware that the cost of wholesale gas has reduced from its peak last year, and your neighbours who have individual gas meters might be able to apply for cheaper tariffs again as the market begins to reflect these savings.

Although your gas is supplied via a communal network, we would like to reassure you that our colleagues at Network Homes are working with a new supplier of gas to broker the best value for you.

We are committed to passing any saving back to you and will be in touch shortly to let you know the revised costs.

With kind regards

Miles Lanham, Interim Director of Customer Service and Operations
